

YOUTH PARTNER INFORMATION FORM

Youth Partners include teachers and their students in middle and secondary schools, participants in after-school programs, and youth groups and clubs who interview and record the histories of war veterans and those who served in wartime as civilians. By following the Veterans History Project guidelines, youth partners learn the techniques and educational value of oral history. They also learn about our nation's history firsthand from those who contributed to America's war efforts during the last century.

The Veterans History Project will provide interviewing and recording guidelines, instructional materials, and frequent updates to its Web site. We request that youth partners use the project guidelines on our Web site. Completed forms and interview materials should be mailed to the Veterans History Project at the address below or to another participating archives. All interviews conducted under the auspices of the project will be listed in the Veterans History Project online catalog.

We look forward to your participation in this important national project. Please share with us updates about your project, including notices of special interviews, events, and related Veterans History Project activities

Please provide us with the following information so we can work together more effectively:

Name of Organization or School:

Name and Title of Authorizing Official:

Address:

Contact Person for the Veterans History Project:

Telephone:

Name of your Project/Partnership Activity (if any):

Fax:

Approximate number of youth participants:

Email:

Web site:

Mail or fax this form to:

Veterans History Project
American Folklife Center
Library of Congress
101 Independence Avenue, SE
Washington, DC 20540-4615

Fax: (202) 252-2046